Why Choose Dr Thomas Nguyen?

Finding the right specialist for your family is an important decision. We are dedicated to providing care that is not only expert but also patient-focused, combining advanced training with a truly compassionate approach.

Extensive Australian and International Training

Dr Nguyen is a fully qualified Australian ENT specialist. He also completed a fellowship in Rhinology and endoscopic skull base surgery at McMaster's University Medical Centre in Canada, bringing world-class expertise to your care.

A Focus on Paediatric and Complex Conditions

With a subspecialty focus on Paediatric ENT, Rhinology, and skull base surgery, Dr Nguyen has deep expertise in managing everything from common childhood concerns to complex adult conditions.

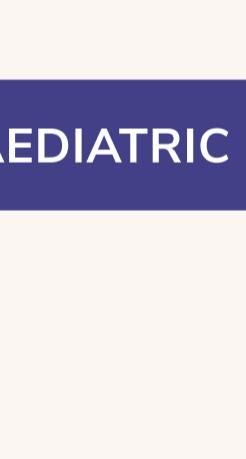

A Patient-Centred Philosophy

We believe in treating every patient with respect and compassion. We take the time to conduct a thorough examination and provide clear explanations, ensuring you are a partner in your treatment plan.

Child-Friendly Environment

We understand that a visit to a specialist can be stressful for young children. Our practice uses specialised techniques to reduce anxiety and create a welcoming atmosphere for our youngest patients.

Convenient Dual Locations

Our clinics in Southwest Sydney (Liverpool, Gledwood Hills) and the Forster-Manning region provide accessible specialist care, reducing travel stress for families in these communities.

A Note From Dr Nguyen

"Every family's journey is different. As an Australian and internationally trained ENT specialist, my role is to thoroughly explore your medical condition, perform a comprehensive examination, and take time to explain your condition and offer different treatment options so you can make informed decisions. I believe in treating every patient with respect and compassion throughout their journey."

Is Your Child's Sleep Affecting Their Health?

Persistent snoring in children often signals sleep-disordered breathing that can impact behaviour, learning, and development. If you notice loud snoring, restless sleep, daytime tiredness, or changes in concentration, a specialist assessment is the first step. Dr Nguyen specialises in comprehensive paediatric sleep assessment and treatment to help your child thrive.
